Public is urged to review draft of neighbourhood plan

The first public consultation on Pulborough's proposed neighbourhood plan is now underway as residents are urged to read and comment on the important document.

Richard Keatley, chairman of the steering group, said: "We've had volunteers from across the village working hard for over 18 months to bring together all the evidence gathered over the last few years."

Residents can now tell the steering group whether they support the plan or would like to see it amended.

All comments must be sent to the parish office in writing by Monday (August 3). There will be a drop-in session in Pulborough library on Monday (June 29) from 10am to 12 noon.
