BECOMING A PARISH COUNCILLOR

Frequently Asked Questions

What does the Parish Council do?

The Parish Council is the tier of local government sitting below District and County Councils. There are fifteen councillors for Pulborough Parish Council plus the Clerk & Deputy Clerk who are paid officers of the council. The Council is funded by residents of the Parish in the form of a "precept" which it determines in its annual budget and is collected by Horsham District Council as part of your council tax.

Council has been involved in various environmental projects around the parish, often in partnership with others such as West Sussex County Council. Whilst there is a natural focus on parish issues and needs, it is also important to look at wider issues and policies which will impact on the parish e.g. from Government, County and District Council, the Environment agency.

The Council has limited power but a reasonable amount of influence. A prime example of this is planning applications. The planning authority is Horsham District Council and the Parish Council is consulted on every planning application within the parish.

As a Councillor you would need to attend regular Council meetings which are currently held on a Thursday of every month and to attend any Parish Council's Sub-Committees you are elected to serve. There may be opportunities to join various other advisory committees set up by the Council e.g. the Planning Committee, the Finance Committee, the Recreation and Open Spaces Sub-Committee and to attend meetings with other bodies such as County and District Councils.

What does a Parish Councillor do?

Councillors represent the electors in their parish ward. They are accessible to residents to listen to their concerns and to deal with them or to pass them for action to the appropriate authorities directly or via the Parish Clerk.

Councillors may represent the Council on local bodies and in meetings with other authorities. They help formulate responses to county or national consultations when relevant local issues are involved.

Councillors can provide leadership on local initiatives. In Pulborough councillors and residents put together the Neighbourhood Plan which identifies the key features that characterise the Parish and sets out how change can be managed to maintain the distinctiveness of the area. The document serves as a guide for planning applications as well as a reference for the District Council on the Parish's views.

The championing of local projects and providing leadership over local issues is an important, and rewarding, aspect of a councillor's role. Persistence in dealing with the authorities and utilities is an essential virtue. In everything they do, councillors need to bring integrity and common sense to their approach and look for viable, pragmatic outcomes that can be achieved.

All this work involves time, of course. Meetings must be attended. Planning applications and other documents must be reviewed. The workload varies, but an average weekly estimate of 3–5 hours would be reasonable. In return is the immense satisfaction of putting something back into the community.

Councillors have substantial support in performing their duties. First of all there is the Parish Clerk which is a paid position to provide an experienced person to look after the administration of the council as well as to be on hand to offer advice and guidance to the councillors. It is essential that the Councillors respect the work/workload of the Clerk in guidance with the Civility & Respect Pledge.

Training is available to the new councillor and will cover all aspects of the role. The Council acts very much as a team and fellow councillors are always there to support each other. Help is also available from organisations such as WSALC (West Sussex County Association of Local Councils). Further information can be found at https://beacouncillor.co.uk/.
